

Kefauver Raps Stevenson For 'Mud Slinging'

Adlai Says Estes Using Bad Tactics, Neglecting Senate

NEWARK, N. J., April 6 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver charged today that Adlai E. Stevenson had begun engaging in mud slinging "in the manner of a man who is desperate" and that such a course will "hurt the Democratic party."

"Stevenson is not talking sense—he is simply talking nonsense," the Tennessee Democratic presidential aspirant told a news conference during his opening campaign tour for New Jersey's 36 Democratic convention votes. He called the news conference at the Paterson City Hall after reading of Stevenson's attack on him at Jacksonville, Fla.

"I didn't cry after I lost in the Democratic convention in 1952," he said, "I got out and worked to help Mr. Stevenson and the Democratic party."

"I'm sorry that Mr. Stevenson feels he now must engage in mud slinging," he said. "He's not in character in doing it."

"I intend to continue my campaign as I have in the past and I am not going to engage in personalities and mud slinging."

"We'll turn the other cheek. I think people want the issues discussed."

Stevenson, one of Kefauver's opponents for the Democratic nomination, had accused Kefauver earlier today of hurting the Democratic party with his campaign tactics.

"The 1952 Democratic standard bearer said Kefauver had been absent from the Senate when several major measures were up for a vote, and that in his campaign Kefauver had hurt the party by criticizing Stevenson supporters of being aligned with political bosses."

But Kefauver denied that he had been absent "on any important votes that I remember."

Some of the bills mentioned by Stevenson, he said, came up for action many years ago, including some in 1948 when Kefauver was a member of the House of Representatives.

"I think my voting record shows a very good attendance," he told the impromptu news conference.

Asked about Stevenson's charge that Kefauver wanted too much to be president and lacked the

Caddo Tribe Wins Round In Fight To Get Land Payment

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The Indian Claims Commission had held that the Caddo Indian Tribe held title to approximately 650,000 acres in northwestern Louisiana in 1835 and is entitled to go ahead with further testimony on claims for recovery of additional payments.

The claims suit was filed by descendants of the Caddoes, who now live in Oklahoma.

The Indians claimed that in 1835 the tribe owned more than one million acres in northwestern Louisiana and southwestern Arkansas and that the tract was ceded to the government under an 1835 treaty for $80,000 in money and merchandise.

The Indians say the value of the land was "far in excess" of what they got. The government was asked to pay the Oklahoma Caddoes the difference between the amount paid and the "fair value" of the land in 1835. The petition did not specify what amount the tribe hopes to get.

Chairman Edgar Witt explained to a reporter today that the commission's decision, issued recently, was solely on the question of whether the tribe owned the land claimed. The commission held that the Caddo tribe on the treaty date did occupy and own some 650,000 acres in northwestern Louisiana, but that it had abandoned at that time the land claimed in southwestern Arkansas.

Witt said he understood tribal attorneys plan to appeal from the ruling on the Arkansas lands.

He added the next step in the case so far as the commission is concerned would be a hearing on evidence as to the "fair value" of the 650,000 acres at the time of the treaty.

Senate Prober Says Reds Invited 'Civil War' With Promise Of 'Negro Empire'

NEW ORLEANS, April 6 (UP)—A Senate investigator said Friday that the Communists invited "civil war in the South" with documents proposing a southern Negro empire.

Ben Mandel, an investigator for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, also introduced pamphlets which urged Communist infiltration of such Negro organizations as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People as the subcommittee ended a stormy two-day hearing on Communist activity here.

The documents were seized by New Orleans police in a raid on the apartment a week ago of Hunter (Pitts) O'Dell, a Negro described as the district organizer of the Communist party here who still is being sought for questioning.

The final session was marked by a heated verbal exchange between Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), committee chairman, and New York attorney Philip Wittenberg.

The attorney said he didn't "consider it a privilege" to be given the opportunity to testify he was not a Communist as the other two attorneys had done. U. S. marshals forcibly ejected Wittenberg from the hearing room as well as Herman Liveright, who was fired from his job as program director for WDSU-TV here when he remained silent before the committee in a hearing at Washington recently.

One of the documents described by Mandel handbook by the late Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin on "anarchism or socialism."

Another suggested that Communist party members "should work into such organizations as the NAACP, churches, civic and voter league groups."

One was a pamphlet by James S. Allen, who invoked the Fifth Amendment in an appearance before the committee at a previous hearing. It called for the creation of a Negro empire in the "black belt of the South" and Mandel commented: "It was an invitation to civil war in the South."

Other documents dealt with "ramifications" in such practical fields as production of a rocket fuel more powerful than any now known and in improved sterilization of food. Atomic hydro-

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The committee for the White House conference on education wound up its work today with a "well done" from President Eisenhower and an estimate that America should double its expenditures on education in the next 10 years.

The committee, which conducted last winter's big conference, submitted a sober but generally optimistic report to the President.

It pictured the nation's schools as far less than what the people would like—or could pay for—but it declared, "There is far more to be proud of in today's schools than there is to criticize."

Tornado Wrecks 33 Dwellings In Richland Parish

Thirty-three homes were destroyed or seriously damaged in Richland parish by Thursday's tornado winds, according to Jerry Coron, Red Cross national field representative of Shreveport.

Coron, who with Jack Higgins of the Red Cross office in Atlanta, Ga., surveyed the damages Friday afternoon, said damages in the Baskin area of Franklin parish were less serious.

Ray W. Clawson, Franklin parish Red Cross director, termed the Baskin damages as minor, saying a number of roofs and TV antennas were torn from their bases.

Only two injuries were reported, Coron said. They were Mrs. Janice Goforth, a Baskin school teacher, who Coron said suffered "mostly shock." She was being treated in Rogers Clinic, Winnsboro.

Mrs. Lorenzo Harrell, Route 1, Mangham, was taken to the St. Francis hospital in Monroe for treatment of a possible broken leg, Coron said. But she was not confined to the hospital last night, a hospital source said.

Scientists Find Rocket Fuel Key In 'Frozen Atoms'

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UP)—Government scientists announced Friday that they have successfully conducted experiments with "frozen atoms" which may lead to development of a "super-powerful" rocket fuel.

The National Bureau of Standards disclosed it has "frozen solid" at 450 degrees below zero pieces of molecules which exist only briefly in flames and hot gases. It told of beautiful blue "flashes" and "flames" observed at the coldest temperature known.

The bureau said it believes it has produced in solid form atomic nitrogen, oxygen and possibly atomic hydrogen, as well as an unstable molecule consisting of one atom of hydrogen and oxygen.

The experiments may have "ramifications" in such practical fields as production of a rocket fuel more powerful than any now known and in improved sterilization of food. Atomic hydro-

Arkansas was predicted to be fair and colder Saturday. Fresh northerly winds should diminish in the afternoon.

Maximum recorded temperature Friday at Selman field was 77 at 5:30 p.m.

C. A. A. officials explained, however, that their thermometer was not functioning for six hours while the shelter was being replaced. Friday's low temperature here was 58.

Public Opinion In Britain Brings On Change In Plans

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin and party Chief Khrushchev bowed today before outraged British public opinion and kicked their secret police chief, Ivan Serov, off the team that will come to Britain with them April 18.

The Russians, obviously straining hard to win friends among the British, abruptly dropped Gen. Serov after insisting he would be coming along.

Khrushchev then added a homely touch to the 10-day "goodwill tour" by telling the British he would bring along his son, S. N. Khrushchev, an engineering student. It was news to the British that the Red boss had a son.

British newspapers blossomed out with banner headlines announcing that Serov would stay home. Their stories appeared after the British Foreign Office published the list of people on the Soviet delegation.

The newspapers had denounced Serov as a "revolting butcher" and an "odious thug" when he flew here last month to set up security arrangements for the Bulganin-Khrushchev tour.

Editorials asserted it was an insult to Britain that Serov—the man they accused of purging and deporting hundreds of thousands in Eastern Europe—should be allowed on British soil.

The official list of the 44-man Russian delegation shows that Serov's place as head of the bodyguard for the Soviet leaders has been taken by a man believed to be his deputy, Maj. Gen. N. S. Zakharov, Khrushchev and Bul-

NAACP Appeals Injunction Ruling To Supreme Court

NEW ORLEANS, Apr. 6 (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People asked the state Supreme Court today to nullify an injunction granted a Baton Rouge District Court.

The injunction bans the NAACP and all its branches from meeting and doing business in Louisiana.

The NAACP asked the Supreme Court to issue writs which would prevent District Court from taking any further action against the organization under the injunction.

The state obtained the injunction last week in a suit filed against the organization under a 1924 law originally aimed at the Ku Klux Klan.

The law requires that most organizations file membership lists with the state. Attorney General Fred LeBlanc contended the NAACP failed to file such lists.

A. P. Tureaud, chief counsel for the organization in Louisiana, told the Supreme Court the NAACP had complied with federal statutes for removal of the issue to federal court.

He said the district court had been informed of this action, but had gone ahead and granted the injunction.

U. S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright Wednesday reprimanded the state for going ahead with the suit after the federal action was filed, but said he was powerless to act until higher state courts had ruled on the suit.

Rigid Supports Conferees Finish Work On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UP)—Senate-House conferees, overriding President Eisenhower's protests, Friday approved a catch-all farm bill calling for a one-year return to high rigid price supports on basic crops.

Administration leaders promptly opened a drive to revise the Democratic-backed bill when it comes up for a House vote next week.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson conferred briefly with Mr. Eisenhower and scheduled another White House appointment Saturday.

The measure, designed to boost farm income about $1 billion this election year, was approved 8 to 2 by a Senate-House conferees committee after weeks of wrangling.

The dissenting votes were cast by Sens. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) and Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.).

The bill would authorize the President's proposed $1.2 billion soil bank to cut down farm surpluses. But this was about the only presidential request that escaped unscathed.

The measure would establish a price-boosting "dual parity" system for computing support prices and would authorize a two-price support plan for wheat. This would increase the cost of producing bread by about one cent a loaf.

If the bill becomes a law, it also conceivably could lead to higher consumer prices for meat, poultry, eggs, ice cream and other products manufactured from milk. Retail butter prices might jump as much as two cents a pound.

Under the bill, participation in the President's "soil bank" would be on a voluntary basis except for corn and feed grain farmers.

The conferees also disclosed that the Agriculture Department submitted a new scale of payments for putting land in the soil bank's acreage reserve. Payments per acre would run: corn, $36-$50; cotton, $48-$60; peanuts, $50-$70; rice, $60-$75; tobacco, $100-$300; and wheat, $18-$25.

In a last-minute amendment, the conferees authorized Benson to allocate to small farmers unplanted acreage for cotton this year.

Condemned Man Dies

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., April 6 (AP)—With blood spurting from a self-inflicted gash in his throat, Robert O. Pierce, 27-year-old gunman, died in the gas chamber today in "the most violent execution" in San Quentin's history, screaming "I'm innocent! I'm innocent!"

Pierce fought, cursed and pleaded to God up to the moment of his death at 10:15 a.m.

Pierce and quiet Smith E. Jordan, 28, were executed together for the $7 robbery-murder of an Oakland taxicab driver, which both insisted they didn't commit.

"I'm innocent," Pierce screamed as four guards dragged him to the gas chamber. "I'm innocent. Don't let me go like this, God!"

He had slashed his throat only moments before in the death cell as a Catholic priest, the Rev. Edward Dingberg, knelt in prayer at his feet. He cut himself with a three-inch silver of broken mirror.

Warden Harley O. Tates said it was "incredible" that he should have the glass despite repeated searches and clothes changes.

Blood spurting from the gash splattered on the four guards who dragged him to the gas chamber as Pierce carried out his promise to "go out the hard way." Blood spotted the corridors between the death cell and gas chamber, and stained Pierce's white shirt crimson.

It took the four husky guards five minutes to strap the chunky, medium sized prisoner in the death chair.

Grayson Church Youth Movement Cited As 'Ideal'

The Grayson Church of God through competitive measures headed by Mrs. Louise Wilson of Grayson was named "Ideal Sunday School and Young People's Endeavor of the Year," at the Monroe District Youth Convention of the Churches of God in West Monroe last night.

The district meeting held last night at the West Monroe Church of God climaxed six months of youth work in seven area churches.

Named as runner up in the competitive was the Archibald Church of God represented by Miss Bobbie Stanford.

The Grayson church's youth workers raised a total of $351.81 during the past six months competition. This money will be used for the orphanage in Cleveland, Tenn., according to Miss Marie Johnston, Monroe District Youth Director of the Churches of God.

Miss Johnston was recipient of the highest award in the state's youth program last year.

Those competing for the title for their respective churches besides Mrs. Wilson and Miss Stanford were: Miss Darlene Beasley, Rayville; Mrs. Ivah Lizensky, Woolen Lake; Mr. J. Williams, Good Hope; Mrs. Love Anderson, Monroe; and Mrs. Mahon Thornton, West Monroe.

Newspaper and radio circles, aghast at the intimidation implied in the attack, joined with other agencies in offering rewards totaling more than $30,000 for the apprehension of the acid hurler.

Newspapers as far away as Miami and Omaha offered rewards. And a $1,000 reward was offered by the very union local Riesel has bitterly attacked—Long Island Local 138 of the Operating Engineers.

Some newspapermen expressed hope that a quick arrest and punishment would put such attacks on working newsmen in the same category as so-called "cop killings." By tradition, police seek harsh and speedy justice for any criminal who kills one of their number.

One of the largest rewards, $10,000, was offered by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, of which Riesel's father was once an official. The elder Riesel died in 1917 after he was beaten for his crusade against union racketeers.

Reporting on the experiments to the Washington Philosophical Society, Dr. H. P. Broida of the Bureau of Standards said "it is characteristic of this field that the investigators speak excitedly of beautiful colors, queer phenomena and explosive events."

These occur at a temperature lower than minus 450 degrees Fahrenheit, or about 4 degrees above "absolute zero." Absolute zero is the point at which all thermal motion ceases.

Atoms of hydrogen, oxygen and nitrogen are known to scientists as "free radicals" because they are not found under normal conditions. They are known to exist briefly in hot flames and gases. They also can be produced under laboratory conditions.

Thus, a "free radical" lives only for a moment under ordinary conditions. Then it recombines with another "free radical" or other substance. But the bureau's scientists have held "free radicals" "almost indefinitely" at temperatures below minus 450 degrees.

Retired Teachers Hold Alexandria Meeting Today

Members of the Louisiana Retired Teachers Association are meeting today in Alexandria, with Bolton High School as headquarters.

The conference, which is open to all retired teachers in the state, is expected to have a large group in attendance, according to Miss Kate Perkins, of Monroe, state president of the organization. An unusually good representation from the 5th District, which comprises this area, is scheduled to attend the meeting, she said.

Preceding the conference, the group made final plans for their legislative program and elected officers.

Montgomery Asks Voter Approval Of Amendments 4, 6

A. E. Montgomery, president of the Ouachita Parish Police Jury, yesterday appealed for the support of constitutional amendment No. 4 to be voted on April 17. The amendment would provide for the dedication of $2,500,000 annually from tideland oil revenue to parish road systems.

Montgomery said Ouachita parish would receive $42,000 a year for maintenance and construction of its parish road system.

The parish road system consists of some 75 miles of roadway. The police jury president said the parish "is badly in need of additional revenue" with which to maintain the road system.

Montgomery, a Police Jury Association representative delegated to confer with state legislative committees and the State Department of Highways, also urged support the passage of amendment No. 6 which relates to a long range state highway program and provides a simpler debt structure for future bonds.

He pointed out that amendment No. 6 was being submitted to the people after over two years of intensive research and study.

2 AWOL Sailors Admit Theft Of Three Vehicles

Two AWOL sailors picked up by Ouachita parish sheriff deputies early yesterday morning later admitted they took one automobile in Maryland and two more in Florida.

The two sailors, absent without official leave, were identified by Sheriff Bailey Grant as Robert Jackson, Rochester, N.Y., 18, and Oscar B. Dickerson, 17, Dayton, Ohio.

Jackson and Dickerson arrested in a stolen Daytona Beach, Fla., auto have been awol from Bainbridge, Md., Navy Base since late in March, authorities said.

The youths admitted to sheriff authorities they stole an auto in Bainbridge and made their way to Jacksonville, Fla., where they stole another vehicle. From Jacksonville the pair proceeded to Daytona Beach where they stole another auto, authorities said.

Sheriff Grant said the sailors also admitted that on "several" occasions enroute they would fill up with gasoline at a service station and leave without paying.

The sheriff said the two have been turned over to federal government agents for prosecution under the Dyer Act.

Larew, dean emerita and Dr. William Fletcher Quillian, Jr., president of Randolph-Macon Woman's College with a tea at 4 p.m. and a banquet at 7:30 p.m. at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club. At this time the alumnae in this area will launch the drive to support the development program which the college has undertaken.

Dr. Quillian, a native of Nashville, Tenn., received his A.B. degree from Emory University, B. D. and Ph. D. degrees from Yale

University and studied at the University of Edinburgh and the University of Basel. In 1952 he received the LL.D. degree from Ohio Wesleyan University. He is a renowned speaker, author and has held some of the most honored positions in the world of education.

Miss Larew, who was originally head of the Mathematics Department, was chosen dean in 1950. She has long been outstanding in the world of science and mathematics, has served in many capacities in the educational world and has received many national and international honors. In 1948, Miss Larew was honored by the Alumnae Association by the endowment of the Gillie A. Larew Chair of Mathematics at Randolph-Macon. Death Rate From Cancer Is Low In Ouachita Parish

NEW YORK, April 6 (Special)—Special interest centers at this time — with April designated as cancer control month by President Eisenhower — in the local mortality from the dread disease.

According to official figures, released recently by the U. S. Public Health Service, the death rate in Ouachita parish is considerably lower than in most parts of the United States.

The government's report shows that there were 84 deaths from cancer and other malignant growths among residents of Ouachita parish in the year ending January, 1954, the period covered by the study.

This was equivalent to a rate of 103 such deaths per 100,000 population and was much lower than the national rate for the year, 143 per 100,000.

It was lower, also, than the average mortality rate in the state of Louisiana, 124 per 100,000.

The importance of the all-out attack on the cancer problem is brought home by the figures. Since 1934, the American Cancer Society points out, there has been a steady rise in the national cancer death rate. It is the second leading cause of death, taking the lives of one out of every six who die in the United States.

On the other hand, there are encouraging aspects in the fight against cancer. Today, more than 10,000 women with cancer, who would have died a decade ago, are being saved each year because of early detection and better treatment. Among men the mortality is somewhat lower than among women.

According to Surgeon General Leonard Scheele, one out of every two cancers can now be cured, thanks to scientific advances. The most recent and dramatic of these is an electronic scanning and computing device to speed up and simplify laboratory diagnosis of cancer cells.

Unique Service Planned Sun. At Christian Church

Beginning Sunday night, April 8 at 7 p.m. in the church sanctuary, the first 30 minutes will be taken up in reading the gospel of St. John with explanation of this gospel.

The meeting will then proceed to the fellowship hall and from 7:30 to 8 p.m. there will be a discussion and question period on the gospel of St. John.

This should be a very interesting and informative meeting for all who attend and all members are urged to attend. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

Learning More About Tornadoes

Army Signal Corps scientists hope to "pinpoint" tornado warning forecasts within a few years, an Army spokesman said in Washington Wednesday.

The tornado warning service operated by the Weather Bureau already has proved its worth, an in all likelihood has saved many lives and countless injuries. Yet all that the Weather Bureau experts can do at present is broadcast general warnings covering fairly large areas, where conditions indicate that severe storms or tornadoes may develop.

One result of this relatively new service is to make the people more weather conscious, whetting their observation, causing them to watch the skies more closely. This, alone, would make the service wholly worthwhile.

In many, but not all, instances, people can escape from a tornado's path if they see the storm coming. At least they can choose the best available shelter—an open ditch is among the best—and so give themselves a much better chance to escape death or injury.

Contrary to a widely-held belief, tornadoes move at relatively slow speed—usually from 10 to 15 miles per hour, most frequently in a general southwest-northeast direction, although valleys, canyons and river bottoms may to some extent deflect them from their ordinary courses. A person in a car easily can outdistance a tornado; while one on foot has a fair chance of escaping its destructive path.

Fundamentally, a tornado is a thermally-driven engine, a heat engine, a centrifuge, in which the rotation of the air may produce a high vacuum within its "snout". Two distinct components of motion are involved—the rapid spiral, the corkscrew twist and spin of the air, attaining a velocity of hundreds of miles per hour near its center; and the rather weak propelling forward movement, gyroscopically controlled. The spin of the whirling mass of air, in the northern hemisphere, invariably is counter-clockwise.

The vast destructive power of the tornado is double-barreled. The force of the whirling wind near the vortex is incredibly great. In addition, the high vacuum at the center empties the air from within a building in a fraction of a second's time and the building literally may "explode", bursting its walls outward.

Army Signal Corps experts say they are learning new facts constantly about the weather conditions which breed tornadoes, and the behavior of these death-dealing and awe-inspiring manifestations of nature after they are spawned.

The current theory most widely accepted is that a tornado is formed when heated air from a slowly circulating current near the ground breaks through a layer of colder air several thousand feet up, forming an invisible "chimney" or smokestack. As the heated air rises along this "chimney," it tends to assume a rotary motion—always counter-clockwise—and around its edges water moisture begins to condense, so that the outline of a funnel slowly dipping toward the earth is observed. The formation of a tornado, from the standpoint of visible observation, requires only a very few minutes.

By seeding clouds in a selected area of Oklahoma with aluminum "confetti," the Army Signal Corps hopes this spring to learn additional facts about tornadoic weather conditions. The confetti, first used in World War II as a military device, will enable the scientists to track a possible tornado by radar much more effectively than under ordinary conditions.

Considering the tremendous toll of deaths and injuries and the enormous property damage inflicted by tornadoes, the work of the Weather Bureau and the Army Signal Corps in this field assumes high importance. Whatever funds are needed to prosecute the work should be provided by Congress.

A Safety Factor

In some sections of the country there is a rush toward building or completing four-lane highways, with a small degree of safety features, such as reduction of grades and curves. But in too many cases almost unlimited access is provided. Highway grade crossings are plentiful.

This haste, in some instances, is probably due to the fear that the same territory will be served by toll roads, which have 100 per cent limited access and more strict safeguards against various accidents.

Many persons believe that unlimited access is an asset. They believe it is to the advantage of the public that the old crossings, with neither underpasses nor overpasses, be preserved.

They are honestly but tragically wrong. Statistics show that automobile accidents occur more frequently on grade crossings and other free access portions of arterial highways than in analogous limited-access sections of toll roads.

The unlimited access highway for heavy cross-state or transcontinental traffic is obsolete even before it is built. To provide maximum safety there should be fenced right-of-ways, no crossing except by underpass or overpass, and other standard features of the best modern toll roads.

It has been demonstrated by actual practice that farmers, or others who live on one side of a big highway and frequently must cross to the other side for their necessary operations can have that access abundantly without free and unprotected grade crossings. Opponents of toll roads contend that such citizens would be caused great inconvenience and expense by doing away with free access. But such objections in most cases are groundless.

The history of toll roads in actual operation shows that there is little inconvenience. Engineers provide frequent underpasses or overpasses. Farmers along the highway, as well as the public, are safeguarded by limited access provisions.

Best cure for worry is hard work, declares a psychiatrist. But is the cure any improvement over the disease, especially at spring fever time?

Another Canadian Error

The Canadian finance minister, Walter Harris, proposes to tax advertising in Canadian editions of American magazines with the object of protecting the circulation of Canadian-owned magazines which apparently cannot take the competition. If this goes through, Congress will probably retaliate by putting an equalizing and reciprocal tax on Canadian whiskey, cheese, oats and other products that come into this country.

Canadian newspapers say that Mr. Harris' tax is a particularly stupid one. The Toronto Telegram puts it succinctly:

"The tax is unnecessary, discriminatory and vicious. It is designed only to make it difficult for the United States publications to produce Canadian editions, and not to raise revenue for the government."

The Globe and Mail of Toronto made the point:

"How can Mr. Harris justify such a tax? Some of these advertisements are American ones, placed in the American edition of the magazine concerned and carried over into the so-called Canadian edition. Some are Canadian ones (for example, tourist advertising) placed in the American edition and directed to its American readers; but, again, carried over into the so-called Canadian edition. And some are specifically Canadian, placed only in the so-called Canadian edition, and directed only to Canadian readers."

"If Mr. Harris is going to tax these magazines for any genuine purpose, he cannot tax the first two types of advertising; he can address himself only to the third. But he said in his Budget Speech that the 20 per cent would be levied on 'all' revenues they received from advertising, and told reporters afterward that 'all' was exactly what he meant."

What Mr. Harris seems to propose is that all American magazines be forced to withdraw from Canada, not permitting even a single copy to be mailed to that country, lest it be called a Canadian edition and taxed. This is vicious anti-Americanism which can only result in vicious anti-Canadianism. Apparently the magazine aimed at is the Reader's Digest which employs 322 Canadians and has a Canadian payroll of more than $1,250,000 and is the only true national magazine in Canada, as it publishes in both French and English which are the two national languages of Canada. Time spends about $4 million in Canada. It would not break either of these publications if an unjust tax forced them to withdraw from Canada altogether. Nor would such a withdrawal affect the American economy one way or the other.

What is unfortunate is that many Americans are beginning to feel that our old-time good neighbor with whom we have had so few quarrels and none of them serious or important since we both became nations, is no longer such a good neighbor. Too many incidents are occurring which give the impression that official Canadians believe that the United States is a lemon to be squeezed to the last drop. That is clearly apparent in the Canadian cartelized handling of newspaper which is having such a deleterious effect upon the American newspaper industry. It is in this commodity that Canadian policy really hurts and is producing in this country a bad opinion of Canada.

It would be most unfortunate for both countries, but more so for Canada, if Congress were required by any large section of the American electorate to decide on a policy of economic retaliation. Nobody wants that. Nobody desires any quarrel or misunderstanding with Canada, but it could happen.

For instance, it is very difficult to understand why Lester Pearson, Canadian secretary of state for external affairs, pushes so hard for the recognition of Red China. Canada has never had any important interests in China nor has Canada's trade with China ever amounted to much. What is the Canadian interest in this? Why does Lester Pearson embarrass the United States by promoting the cause of Red China? Surely, it cannot be for ideological reasons. What then is the explanation?

It is reported that in the recent conversations among President Eisenhower, the Canadians and Mexicans, Lester Pearson again raised the question of Red China and that he was told off, because the United States is not ready to recognize Red China, not even in 1957 as some plan for us to do. Nor do the American people believe that a nation should shoot its way into the United Nations, particularly by shooting Americans as the Chinese Communists did in Korea. CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

GOP Antitrust Record Frustrating Democrats

WASHINGTON—Election-minded Democrats, itching to corner and slay the dragon Monopoly, are frustrated. The reason: A Republican St. George seems to be capturing the beast and the credit.

For three years, GOP dragon-fanciers no less than Democratic trust-busters have been baffled by the vigor with which Stanley N. Barnes has discharged his duties as assistant attorney general in charge of the Antitrust Division.

Few Democrats took seriously the GOP's 1952 platform pledge to "relentlessly protect our free enterprise system against monopolistic and unfair trade practices." That was before April 1, 1953, when President Eisenhower picked Barnes, a California judge recommended by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and then Gov. Earl Warren, as the man to redeem the pledge.

The precise extent to which Barnes has succeeded remains in controversy. Antitrust is a highly complex field, and the enforcement officer's decisions always are open to technical dispute.

Politically, however, Barnes has won a smashing success. By carrying the personal confidence of wary Democrats and the policy backing of his administration superiors, he has disarmed potential critics and effectively removed antitrust from the political arena.

Two facts point up Barnes' unusual personal status. Nominated recently for a circuit judgeship, Barnes was elevated without dissent by the Senate Judiciary committee. Chairman James O. Eastland (D Miss.), who reportedly is sitting on the similar but nine-month-old nomination of Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff because of the latter's role in pressing for the outlawing of segregation, made an issue of the fact that Barnes signed two anti-segregation briefs for the Interstate Commerce commission.

Second fact is that the administration, having sought and received Senate confirmation of Barnes' judgeship, now plans to keep him around until Congress goes home. St. George, having cowed the beastly dragon, is obviously the man to fend off hopeful Democratic knights.

For example, the administration is braced for a flank attack from Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D Wyo.), who has succeeded the late Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D W. Va.) as acting chairman of the Senate Judiciary's Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee. The report of the subcommittee's extensive 1955 investigation, due to be released shortly, is expected to view with alarm evidence of growing economic concentration.

But it was Republican Barnes who made headlines recently with a suggestion that General Motors voluntarily divest itself of one or more of its five auto divisions lest Congress or the justice department one day decide to lower the boom. GM's Republican President, Harold Gurnee said "nonsense"; even Democrat O'Mahoney thought the step unnecessary.

With that kind of competition, however, Democrats may have a tough time trying to convince the country the GOP is lying down on the job.

The administration's antitrust record appears good, although perhaps less than the perfect one Republicans claim. All told, fewer complaints were filed in the first three years of the Eisenhower administration than in the last three years of the Truman administration—118 against 142.

But these figures are misleading, since complaints dropped steadily from a high of 58 in 1950 to a low of 29 in 1953, then climbed back to 54 last year. Moreover, the administration is asking Congress to increase the Antitrust division's budget by about 30 per cent next year.

More important than numbers, however, are the types of complaints pressed and settlements sought. Here there are grounds for genuine controversy, although of a kind with limited box-office appeal.

Republicans claim they have spilled less blood while upholding law and order, by shifting emphasis from criminal to civil proceedings and by stressing pre-filing negotiations leading to consent decrees, thus avoiding long and costly trials. Democrats see this as settling for half a loaf or less.

Last week, for example, Rep. James Roosevelt (D Calif.) criticized the much-heralded consent decree involving American Telephone and Telegraph, and its manufacturing subsidiary, Western Electric. When the complaint was filed in 1949, the government had asked that AT&T be forced to sell off Western. Barnes' failure to insist on divestiture, said Roosevelt, left smaller manufacturers "no better off than before."

More of the same will be heard from Democrats in the coming months. But Republicans are confident these shafts will splinter against St. George's shield.

Facts Worth Knowing

More than half of all U. S. farms have trucks and three-fourths of them have automobiles.

The flame tree or royal poinciana is a native of Madagascar but it has been carried around the world. It decorates gardens from Hawaii to Jamaica and from Florida to South America.

The oldest known specimen of a flowering plant has recently been found in the San Juan Mountains of Colorado, the National Geographic Society reports. A palm-like growth that flourished 165 million years ago, it left the imprint of its leaves on Colorado's red rock. Fossil experts have discovered seven such imprints. The largest was 18 inches long.

IN WASHINGTON

Truman's Second Choice

An open secret here, is that Senator Stuart Symington's dark horse candidacy for the Democratic presidency is being readied and will be apparent to the country within a few weeks.

Missouri's Symington, who will be 55 in June, is a native of Massachusetts, member of a prominent Baltimore, Md. family, and for more than 20 years a successful head of a small electrical manufacturing business in St. Louis. His Massachusetts nativity is explained by the fact that his father then was a professor at Amherst College.

It is reliably reported here that a small group of Missouri Democrats and some in the east as well as acutely, new school buildings. True also that there is a shortage of teachers, a shortage of good teachers in many schools. It is also true that teachers are sadly underpaid as a general thing. These conditions must be remedied before we can hope to give the coming generation a decent education, the sort that will enable them to think as clearly and as wisely as human minds can manage about life and all that concerns it.

These are material needs, immediate, pressing and vital to the health and power of this nation. Along with these needs is another set, the spiritual, intangible forces that will apply in any educational situation. Present, they illuminate teaching and learning. Absent, they leave it a drag thing without life, without value in a person's struggle for a life worthy of mankind.

First among these is the character, the quality of mind, of the teachers. Money will never purchase this. A good salary never hurt a good teacher nor did it make him a better one. The quality of a good teacher is inherent in his being. It has been refined and disciplined by experiences that he accepted and used for his spiritual growth. This sort of teacher should be sought for in the seventh and eighth grades of the elementary school. The teacher soon discovers the boy or girl who is quick to learn, quick to understand and help a classmate out of a difficulty. There will be no disciplinary trouble with these pupils. They love books, love learning and delight in sharing it. These are potential teachers and from the time they are discovered, they should be encouraged, directed and led to the teaching profession.

A real teacher, a dedicated soul. Whatever concerns the pupil concerns him. He spends his life freely to help any and all who enter his classroom to achieve what measure of success lies within their ability. His classroom extends beyond the walls of the schoolhouse, and his influence reaches into the homes and the community.

This teacher, so common in days past, is becoming rare now. Materialism is overcoming idealism in the profession. That should not be. It came about because people accepted the dedication and forgot that while men do not live by bread alone, the bread is a first essential even to dedicated men.

There is no salary too big for the real teacher and we shall see more idealism when the material needs of the teachers have been met. And remember: No matter how splendid the building, how well-equipped, the teacher is the school.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

God likes spontaneous straight talk instead of memorized prayers uttered mechanically. And God changes his mind, too, if you can offer a logical argument in support of an unselfish cause, as Moses proved below. So talk to God but do so as a mature person. God is not a Santa Claus to fulfill "gimme" prayers of wishful thinkers.

Case R-324: Link J., aged 20, is in our military services. "Dr. Crane, I never grew up in a religious home," he confessed. "My folks drank and caroused around. They never sent me to Sunday school."

"But I met a girl a year ago who got me to going to church. And I think the world of her."

"Now I want to be a Christian and lead a good life. But I don't know how to pray. I feel awkward about it."

"Do you yourself ever pray, or is it true that psychologists ridicule religion?"

No, most of our psychologists are outstanding leaders in moral organizations and active in the church.

Oh, there are a few smart alecks who have the desire to shock people and be iconoclasts, but you'll find that breed in every profession.

In answer to Link's question as to whether I pray, I can reply that I certainly do and every day! Prayer is conversation with God. It can occur at any time and you don't even need bow your head, for God likes straight talk.

And prayers should not be constantly of the "gimme" variety wherein we constantly ask for personal favors.

"Please help me get well," or "Please see that I get an 'A' grade on my examination" or "Please let me win Rosalie for my wife," are evidences of the "gimme" type of prayer.

It is proper to ask God for help, but sandwich some "Thank you" remarks in between.

Remember, too, that we psychologists recommend that college grades be awarded on the "curve" basis with about 10 per cent "A" grades. In a class of 20 students, that means only 2 would get "A's."

If you have wretched on your studying during the year and have played poker or dated pretty coeds who other more diligent students stuck to their textbooks, would it be fair for God to grant you an "A"?

Suppose those dutiful, hard working students are also asking God for an "A" grade. Who should get it?

If you are an athlete but haven't lived up to your training rules whereas an opponent has, and both ask God to help them win the race, would it be fair for God to help the slacker?

If you have smoked cigarettes until you develop lung cancer, in the face of the American Medical Association's warnings about such dangers, would it be proper for God to make your cancer disappear?

Don't mention these things because you must pray like mature adults instead of wishful toddlers.

God is not to be approached as Santa Claus! He is the epitome of logic and rationality, so your prayers must make sense.

And it is NOT true that God is fixed and unchangeable. Moses proved that logical arguments could persuade God to change his mind, as in Exodus 32:10, after the Israelites had coaxed Aaron to make them a Golden Calf, God said:

"Now, therefore, let me alone, that my wrath may be hot against them, and that I may consume them; and I will make of thee a great nation!"

But Moses unselfishly argued in defense of the people until God consented to give them another chance.

So God listens to sound reasons, especially when advanced in an unselfish cause.

And if you are teamed up with him, as a Junior Partner you can relax at bedtime, for God will then take over the night shift for you, while you slumber more soundly.

God also likes spontaneous and original prayers rather than memorized statements uttered mechanically.

Country Club Is Setting For La Vingt Club Luncheon

A lovely luncheon was enjoyed by members of the La Vingt Club when they met for their regular meeting on Wednesday, April 4, 1956, at the Bayou Desiard Country Club.

The president, Mrs. A. Petrus, led the members in the reading of the club collect and conducted a short business meeting. Mrs. Joe Gorman introduced Mrs. E. P. Cudd who reviewed the Classic "The Great Meadow" by Elizabeth Madox Roberts. Miss Roberts fused the art of poetry with her prose, and the art of the weaver of tapestries, as she works with the native Kentucky types.

Miss Roberts is both a craftsman and an artist, according to Mrs. Cudd, and found her thus in the Great Meadow. She has a keen sense for color and an exquisite feeling for nature.

Members Of Miro Book Club View Films At Library

Arrangements of Japanese dogwood and Tailsman roses decorated the home of Mrs. C. R. Tidwell Monday afternoon when she entertained members of the Miro Book Club.

Of special interest to the members was Mrs. D. M. Moore's account of the fifth district convention held in Tallulah recently.

Prior to the meeting, members attended the showing of two films on sugar cane and yams at the Ouachita Parish Library, in connection with their study of Louisiana agriculture. Miss Frances Flanders showed the film.

Mrs. Moore, program chairman, also introduced Mrs. A. B. Myatt who gave a review of "Yesterday and Today" by F. W. Williams which was prepared by Mrs. J. H. McCormick.

Mrs. Myatt explained that the author is Frederick W. Williams, a former editor of the Monroe News-Star and Morning World. It was pointed out by Mrs. Myatt that the book tells the story of Louisiana's extension service.

Your eyebrow pencil should have a very sharp point. Let's Take A Look At That Head—From A Beauty Angle

What goes on inside of our heads is nobody's business. However, the outside of our heads is another matter. It is amazing when we consider all of the experimentation, research and manufacturing which have been expended in order to make us look lovelier than we naturally are! In one column I could not begin to discuss all the many aids to beauty and comfort available today, but I can mention a few and instruct you in their proper use.

First let us think of the brows and lashes. We have mascaras of all shades. We have tweezers for removing the stray hairs along the browline. We have eyelash curlers which will make the lashes look longer. We have eyebrow pencils. Let me take a little space right now to tell you more about how to use your brow pencils.

Your pencil should have a VERY sharp point. For light brows a light brown pencil is best. Even for those women who have dark brows the dark brown pencil will appear much more natural than a black one. As you probably know you should use the pencil in short, feathery strokes—no solid hard line.

The eyes can be made to appear much larger and more attractive if you draw a thin line along the upper lid at the base of the lashes. For evening you also can draw a very short light line, slanting slightly upward at the outer corner of each eye. For these lines you should use the black pencil.

Most women make the mistake of using too much water when they apply mascara. Just barely dampen the little brush, and use it in an upward sweep. If you use too much water your lashes will stick together in an unattractive manner. It is always wise to separate the lashes with a little hairpin.

You will do a much better job on your lips if you will form the habit of using a lipstick brush. Follow the natural line with the brush and then fill in with the lipstick. You can follow the line more accurately or make any corrections more skillfully with a brush than with the lipstick itself.

Be sure to remove any lip rouge you may get on your teeth. Women often forget this.

The art of making up the eyes and mouth is well worth cultivating. It can make a big difference in the way you look.

Orleans Living Costs Climbing

BATON ROUGE —The cost of living essentials increased slightly in New Orleans from November to February, Louisiana State University researchers said today.

The division of research of the LSU college of commerce said the consumer price index was up .03 per cent for the three month period and .01 per cent compared with February, 1955.

The food index moved up identically with the overall index for the three month period, but was 2.2 per cent below February last year.

The housing group was up .04 per cent over November and 1.4 over February, 1955, with rent leading the way with a 3.1 per cent rise for the year.

Largest increase was shown in the medical group, up 4.8 per cent over February, 1955.

Annual Franklin Parish Band Festival April 12

WINNSBORO, April 6 (Special) —The annual Franklin Parish High School band and vocal music festival will be held in Winnsboro April 12 and 13.

According to Miss Elizabeth Landis, music supervisor of Franklin parish, the band this year will be selected from the very best players of the Winnsboro and Crowley senior bands. The 60 member festival band will work under the direction of Jimmy Reynolds, of Istrouma High School, Baton Rouge. The noted band clinician will be assisted by directors Herbert E. Gathright, of Winnsboro and Ralph Pierce, of Crowley.

Try outs for places in this band are under the direction of Ralph Pierce, and he is being assisted by Homer Brown, director of the Rayville High School band; Robert Reddy, director of the Mansfield High School band, and Bob Timmerstein, of Monroe.

The combined high school chorus will be composed of 200 boys and girls from the eight Franklin parish high schools. This chorus will be directed by Dr. F. G. Bulber, Dean of the division of Fine Arts at McNeese State college, Lake Charles. He will be assisted by Fred L. Propst, professor of voice at McNeese.

Featured this year for the first time will be an inner choir of 50 voices. This group will serve as a demonstration choir for the clinic part of the festival and will also take part in the program.

Sanford Linscome, recent graduate of McNeese, who has been associated with the famous "Robert Shaw Chorus," is scheduled to sing the tenor in the "Sanctus," one of the sacred selections being done by the chorus.

Parish vocal teachers who will assist with the combined chorus are Miss Maxine Rogers, Wisner; Mrs. Edleen Mareczak, Gilbert; Mrs. D. L. Walters, Jr., Crowleyville; Miss Penny Holstead, Winnsboro; and E. T. McClung, Baskin and Ogden.

The festival will culminate with a public performance by the band, chorus, and outstanding piano students of the parish, in the Winnsboro High School auditorium April 13, at 7:45 p.m. The public is invited and there will be no admission charge.

Johnson says road costs now take 3.3 per cent of Iowans' personal income, compared with the national average of 1.8 per cent. He points out that though Iowa ranks fifth in the nation in mileage of secondary roads and seventh in total street and highway mileage, the state is 16th in number of vehicles, 21st

Moral Defects Can Be Worse Than Physical Handicaps

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a private secretary, just past 50. My boss is an executive of a large corporation, 15 years my senior, a bachelor, well thought of in the community and a member of several clubs. He has frequently visited at my home; my folks think a lot of him. He is always kind, considerate and a perfect gentleman.

Recently he has asked me to go to dinner with him, or visit mutual friends. I have refused, since he is slightly lame and uses a cane. I can't quite tell myself in the role of martyr. How can I tell him of my feelings tactfully?

Donna W.

ANSWER: Refuse a few invitations and the gentleman won't be long catching on. The handicapped are notoriously sensitive.

Actually, he is less handicapped than you. His is merely a slight crippling of a limb; you have a severe moral maladjustment. Nothing short of perfection is good enough for you. If character defects were as obvious as physical ones, the man would be ashamed to be seen with you.

Most women would be quite proud to have the friendship of so fine a man and would feel anything but martyred at his invitations. Your sense of values needs a slight revision.

LOST RELATIVES

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband was taken from an orphanage when he was four and raised, thereafter, by several foster families. He has no idea who his parents were, but had two sisters in the orphanage. He recently got in touch with one sister, but the whereabouts of the other is unknown. The identity of his parents has bothered him a lot. How could we learn something about them?

Mrs. G. K.

ANSWER: Any existing information would be available at the orphanage from which he was placed in foster homes. If they have no knowledge of your husband's family, it must be presumed there is none.

Digging into a personal past is seldom rewarding. Use your efforts, and ask your clergyman to co-operate in having your husband give up this futile idea and concentrate on making the present and future productive.

DEAR MISS DIX: My boy friend is in the Navy and wants to send money home to me so I can bank it—in his name, of course. Do you think this is proper?

Wondering

ANSWER: If his folks and yours agree to it. Otherwise the action might be misinterpreted.

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a single girl, living with my parents. Recently I met a very attractive man, somewhat older than I, and have grown extremely fond of him. He is going with a widow who has three children, and he says the only reason he seeks her company is because he's very fond of the youngsters. He takes me out quite frequently, but that's all the encouragement I get.

Tillie

ANSWER: Well, at least he offers an original excuse for dodging marriage. Wonder what his story to the widow is? Any man who sincerely loved children would marry and raise his own.

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm going steady with a very nice boy, but my older sister always has comments on the way his mother dresses. My sister prides herself on her ability to wear clothes. I admit my boy friend's mother doesn't have taste, but she's a very nice woman, nevertheless. I do get hurt at my sister's remarks.

Dolly

ANSWER: Charity, they say, covers a multitude of sins, but tolerance wipes lots of them away. Your sister certainly could do with a big dab of it. For each fault she finds, you pick out a virtue to compliment. Her criticisms won't get far on that basis.

Write DOROTHY DIX for free leaflet D-23, "The Way to a Girl's Heart," or, if you have a problem, send it to her. In all cases, be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send request to her, care of this newspaper.

Clerk's Office Self-Sustaining, Auditor Reports

The recent audit on the Ouachita parish clerk of court's office, made by State Auditor Allison R. Koll, showed that the office is self-sustaining.

Ouachita parish clerk of court R. Dean Farr said Friday, "I'm very proud of every audit ever made on this office. We are the only office in the state that don't have to use tax money except for buying permanent equipment."

Farr, who has been clerk of court since Feb. 8, 1937, will be sworn in for another term of office in May.

The clerk's office takes in revenue through marriage licenses, mortgage certificates, certified copies, filing and recording cancellation, suits and successions, and sundry items. "Besides paying the clerks and 14 deputy's salaries and general expenses out of these sources of income," said Farr, "we have some surplus to give to the police jury when we make our four-yearly."

"It costs about $7500 a month to carry on business here," Farr revealed, "and we will receive $3,000 worth of new equipment in 60 days, but in spite of all expenses we are able to give the police jury a sizeable sum of surplus money every four years that about pays for even the permanent equipment."

In a very favorable letter from the state auditor, Koll said of Farr and the clerk's office here, "It certainly has been a pleasure for me to work with you."

East Carroll Unit Gives Polio Shots

LAKE PROVIDENCE, April 6 (Special) — A total of 799 polio injections have been given by the East Carroll Parish Health unit, since October 18, 1955, according to a report recently released by Dr. W. K. Evans, director.

A breakdown on this total reveals that 37 first injections were given, 376 second injections, and 386 booster or third injections.

Entries Fail

9. Clue implies that, if anything, being this will tend to depress a man. This favors BOOED. Being PORED is the STATE of depression, rather than that which depresses. PORED is insufficient in itself as an answer.

11. MIXES is best since the existence of MIXES in a district would attract the mining type or a population of mining people. That would be the character of the populace due to MIXES being there. PINES could hardly be said to affect the people's character. WINES, WINES or LINES are too vague; likewise why select WINES over any other type of drink.

18. Certainly a man over sixty would find SPIRITS a strenuous undertaking. Not necessarily so with SPORTS however many of which require little strenuous effort.

20. RACE best fit, the clue, THE RACE cards for any one RACE should be all alike hence it would be puzzling to see them all different. If it were a card game the FACE cards in the deck being used would naturally be all different.

22. BAND does not suit the clue as well as does LAND. The implication that good playing ability is necessary in order to fully appreciate a BAND is erroneous. In bridge, or other card game, however, a poor player may well fail to appreciate the distributional possibilities in a HAND. LAND, SAND or WAND are too vague.

CLUES DOWN

3. ARED is best. All sorts of things may worry an AGED man. "The fact that he CAN'T sleep" gives a nice link with the man lying ARED, trying to go to sleep.

5. The price of FAME, considering the sacrifice made and consequences involved, may well, to some people, seem to great. As for FAME, when it is discovered, the price, any price paid, WILL DEFINITELY be too great and "may well seem too great" is hardly the proper term. You do not speak of the "price" of a FAME or FAME. The "price of FAME" hardly makes sense.

7. With a TORCH to light your way, you CAN hurry, but IT'S BEST to go slowly. Torching along by TORCH, you hardly have any choice but to go slowly.

10. WELL KEPT GRASS could imply a color, white rank and orderly GRASS would not. The expression "well kept" does not aptly GRASS as well as GRASS. WELL POLISHED would be more apt for GRASS.

13. LIPS is best. Her nicely formed LIPS may well be noticed. Not so for HIPS which may be covered by a loose fitting dress or coat.

17. A BRIDE could, either by her own persuasion or in his knowledge of his new domestic obligations to his new BRIDE requiring a greater interest. PRIDE is not as apt. A man does not suddenly acquire PRIDE. It is a characteristic he doubtless had yesterday if he has it today.

19. The tone of the clue, and the phrase "new hope" favor PRAY. Children PLAYING cops and robbers, for example, would hardly give you new hope.

21. A person in INSEPARABLE from his damaged RIB, and might continue to have trouble with it. Where a damaged RIB is concerned you would hardly continue to use it; all you need to do is change it. JIB is not as good.

George Malenkov, the former Soviet premier who has been on a three-week handshaking tour of Britain, indicated only last night at a news conference that the Kremlin's intention was to bring Serov on the tour.

When asked by a British reporter if he would admit to Serov's return because of the public outcry, Malenkov said:

"We didn't notice any feeling against the British people against Gen. Serov or any other Russian general. The particular feeling that were expressed were not the feelings of the people as a whole."

Malenkov himself packed his bag for his flight home tomorrow aboard a Soviet jet airliner.

The Russian spent his last day in London sight-seeing and visited the famous "wax" works museum of Madame Tussaud. Malenkov started away from the "Chamber of Horrors" but he did see a cabinet in which he figured, standing at the right hand of the old boss — the now downgraded Josef Stalin.

Malenkov never batted an eye as he stared at the tableau. He refused all comment.

In addition there were documents dealing with proposals for party organization of farm workers and suggested discussion panels dealing with various aspects of the Negro question.

Eastland said at the conclusion of the hearing that the two-day session had been "informative" and "Congress now has evidence of conspiracy of the Soviet Union in the United States."

Huckaby Reports Traffic Signals Not Yet Approved

No traffic signals are to be installed at the five street Sterling intersection on Highway 80 East, as reported yesterday afternoon, Commissioner of Streets and Parks Wayne Huckaby said last night.

Instead of traffic lights, "safety islands" are planned by the state highway board, Commissioner Huckaby said.

He explained that in 1955 the state department of highways gave the city of Monroe a permit to install traffic signals at the intersection, but that the permit had since been rescinded.

Mrs. John P. Zoll, principal of the parish school at the airport, announces that a talent show will be presented in Brown Auditorium April 23 and 24.

The pupils are working hard to present a creditable entertainment which will illustrate the wide-spread talents that are possessed.

This show is to aid in raising money for some of the equipment, when this fall the school at the airport is abandoned for the new and modern Lake Shore school located in an area that once was known as Spanish City.

Dr. E. K. Means, well known retired Methodist minister, will leave shortly to serve as guest speaker for the Lions club in Alexandria at noon April 11.

Following this he will proceed to the Gulf coast near New Orleans for a stay of some weeks as guest of a close friend who is a prominent former planter.

With a full number of 20 dinner clubs in the Twin Cities there's to be an added twenty-first one. It is being formed by Masons exclusively to meet about every two weeks. It is to be known as the Twin City High Twelve club and on April 11 at Hotel Frances it will receive a charter with 60 initiated members.

The group is new here, but not to many other cities of the country for it is international in scope and has a well-entrenched program to carry out successfully.

"I run hard for anything I run for. I run on an affirmative basis — and I have many friends in the Senate."

Earlier today, Kefauver called for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and abolition of the "so-called right-to-work" laws.

During a tour of heavily industrial northern Jersey, the Tennesseean told an outdoor, Passaic labor rally.

"Labor must be free from the disruptions and distortions in labor-management relations which have been the heritage of Taft-Hartley."

"Right now, I think we face the necessity of rewriting this Taft-Hartley Act. . . . We need a new labor law, streamlined to meet modern conditions."

The National Assn. of Manufacturers, he said, has "rammed through the so-called 'right-to-work' laws in 19 states." These laws "ought to go," he told several hundred workers at the gates of the U.S. Rubber and Oonite Cables plants.

He told the United Press he understands the administration is taking an "additional look at the budget" and that "something is in the works."

There was no immediate indication what effect a defense spending boost would have on the administration's precariously balanced budget. However, it would reduce even further already-dim hopes of an income tax cut this year.

Democratic demands for higher defense spending have been strengthened by statements of Trevor Gardner, former assistant Air Force secretary.

Two-Act Opera, 'Mighty Casey,' Opens Thursday

Two performances of the one-act opera "The Mighty Casey" by William Schuman will be presented Thursday and Friday by the Fine Arts Department of Northeast State. Both are scheduled in Brown Auditorium.

The first performance is set for Thursday at 1 p.m., as a special matinee for school children. The following production will begin Friday at 8:15 p.m.

Based on the familiar poem "Casey at the Bat" by Ernest Thayer, the opera preserves all the typical associated with the great national game of baseball.

The production "The Mighty Casey" represents the seventh year of opera at Northeast. Since the presentation of the folk opera "Down in the Valley" in 1949, ten lyric theatre productions have been staged.

"Hansel and Gretel" the 1955 production, gained outstanding recognition by the public as evidenced in the two sell-out performances. Approximately 1200 school children were present for the matinee.

"The Mighty Casey" will be under the musical direction of Joe Barry Mullins of the Fine Arts faculty with the assistance of Eloy Fominaya, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, Dr. Wilford Smith, George Brian and Coach George Luffey, all of the Northeast faculty.

The production, representing a major music and dramatic project, for the season, will have a cast of about eighty-five students, full orchestra, chorus and student soloists in the major roles.

Tickets for both performances will be available at the door. They also may be purchased from members of the cast or at Dew Music Company in Monroe.

770 Polio Shots Injected Here In Past Five Days

The Ouachita Parish health unit gave a total of 770 polio injections in five days this week, despite two days of very rainy weather, Dr. Carroll Summer, director, said Friday. Biggest day was Monday, when 320 of the shots were administered.

Dr. Summer said his office received 900 shots of the polio vaccine Friday morning, bringing his amount "on hand" up to 1500 or more doses for Ouachita parish. In Morehouse parish, of which he is also health director, Dr. Summer said there are some 800 doses ready for administering. Morehouse received 500 doses Friday, he said.

Polio injections are now being given to those persons from six months to 20 years of age and all pregnant women who come for care at the health center in Monroe, Dr. Summer added. This includes "first," "second" and "third" shots, according to how many, if any, the persons has received before.

HUB CAPS STOLEN

Monroe detectives reported yesterday that four hub caps, valued at $86.80, were stolen Thursday night from a 1953 Oldsmobile convertible parked on the Central Auto Used Car Lot at the intersection of North Fourth and Washington streets. Grady Lee, operator of the car lot, reported the theft early yesterday detectives said.

ment in room 100.

The day's program will emphasize plant breeding work in Louisiana.

Cotton breeding in the state will be discussed by Fred St. Associate agronomist of the Louisiana Experiment Station, Louisiana State University.

Lee Mason, former instructor at Northeast, and now assistant agronomist of the Louisiana Experiment Station, will emphasize principal factors in corn breeding work.

Following the morning session, a luncheon will be held at the Antler Restaurant, where Jack Dean, Baptist Student Union director here will serve as master of ceremonies. He will address the group on the moral responsibility of leadership.

Also on the convention agenda are a business meeting, scheduled at 1:25 p.m. and a tour, which will end activities of the day.

Besides Demeter President Robinson, Northeast's membership includes another national officer, Thad Busbee of Rayville who holds the post of secretary-treasurer.

It'll Surprise Stengel If Yanks Miss Pennant

MOBILE, Ala., April 6 (AP)—"I'll be surprised if any of the other clubs win it," he said. Presumably, that's how Casey Stengel feels about the New York Yankees' pennant chances, in the American League.

"We've got about the same team unless I put that man in at shortstop," he said. Presumably, the "man" is Jerry Lumpe, rookie from Birmingham who forged to the front in the shortstop derby during the final weeks of training.

"We might have had a new feller in left field if he hadn't run into the wall," he said, referring to rookie Norm Siebern who played every game until he crashed into a concrete barrier.

"If anybody beats us, I'd have to say it would be Boston or Cleveland. Boston has the best young club and Cleveland has the best old club with those three young pitchers (Herb Score, Don Mossi and Ray Narleski).

"This Boston club, it's got good pitching and they'll have the big feller (Ted Williams) in the outfield from the start. They might surprise us the most trouble of all."

"Everybody talks about those Red Sox kids and they've got some good ones. But we've got a few that aren't bad. I got a kid named Kubek (Tony Kubek), only played ball two years. He's a shortstop but he'll play anywhere you tell him. I had him all over the outfield and around the infield too."

"The young feller at shortstop (Lumpe) has stole the job at the present time. He's been doing pretty good since Gil McDougald hurt his leg, and if Siebern didn't get hurt, he might be in there too."

Stengel raves about Kubek, a rangy 6-3 Milwaukee lad who hit .334 at Quincy (Class A) last year. Some of the brass think he needs more polishing but Stengel has been in his corner.

Pitching, of course, is the Yanks' solid strength. The staff led the league last year with a 3.23 earned run average and has added Maury McDermott (10-10) the long lefty from Washington who has the knack of beating Cleveland. The Yanks lost the season series to the Indians last year, 13-9, the first they have dropped under Stengel.

Tommy Byrne (16-5), Whitey Ford (18-7) and McDermott give the Yanks the best lefthanded brigade in the league. Don Larsen (9-2), perhaps the best pitcher on the club in the spring games, and Bob Turley (17-13), still wild and erratic, are the righthanded starters with Bob Grim (7-5) for starting and relief and Johnny Kucks (8-7) for spot duty. Rip Coleman (2-1), will get the call when an extra lefty is needed.

Tom Morgan (7-3) and 39-year-old Jim Konstanty (7-2) head the bullpen list.

Mickey Mantle (.306) whose 37 homers led the league in 1955, was off to his best spring start until he re-injured a knee muscle. With Mickey in center and Hank Bauer (.278) in right, Stengel has two thirds of his outfield. Irv Noren (.253) had such a slow recovery

Venturi Forges 4-Stroke Masters Margin

Only Middlecoff Crowds Amateur In Bid For Title

AUGUST, Ga., April 6 (AP)—Ken Venturi, newest amateur phenomenon of the Masters golf tournament, drove into the teeth of a 25-knot wind and used a mechanical putter Friday to score a 69 and raise his margin to four strokes over Cary Middlecoff at the tournament's halfway point.

Luck in the form of a wild drive that bounced off a tree into the fairway set up Venturi to make his biggest stride with an eagle on the eighth hole.

And when it seemed the babyfaced 24-year-old might falter on the back nine, the wind changed to his favor and he scored three birdies to compile a total score of 135—nine strokes under par. He was three under Friday and six Thursday.

Only Middlecoff clung close to the imperturbable San Francisco auto salesman. Other favorites, one after the other, fell back, their games gone with the wind and its quickening effect on the greens. Most startling fiasco was that of Ben Hogan who with a 69 Thursday had been very much in contention but could manage only a 78 Friday.

Middlecoff, defending Masters champion who scored a par 72 to go with a 67, had a total of 139.

Venturi became the second amateur to lead the field after 36 holes. Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., did it two years ago but Patton, who shot a 70 Thursday, quietly regained his amateur standing Friday by carding a 76.

The near gale, which contestants agreed made the course three strokes harder, did the most damage on the first 12 holes. Venturi also had trouble with the wind at first.

After he parred the first hole, the breeze carried his second shot into the woods on No. 2 and dealt him a bogey despite a good recovery. But he had a secret weapon against the elements—his putter. He sank a 15-footer to get back even on the third and just missed another on six when a 25-footer stopped on the rim.

Then came the dramatic eighth where again a cross gust caught his tee shot. But it slammed the ball solidly against a pine tree hole and the ball came back to the fairway.

Venturi lined his next one to within chipping distance but elected to scoot the ball up with a six-iron and it went in the hole "kerplunk," a 36-yard shot by actual pace count.

Middlecoff, the ex-Memphis dentist now operating out of Dallas, came in with a 72 moaning that the wind hurt him most on the greens because it gave a wobble to his long-shafted putter.

The nearest to Middlecoff stood three strokes farther back at 142, two under par, where four of Thursday's par-or-better shooters were grouped.

Shelley Mayfield of Westbury, N. Y., scored a 74 to go with 68; Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., had 74 on top of a 68; Pete Cooper of Birmingham, Mich., had a 70—the second best score Friday—to go with a 72 and Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., shot a 72 to couple with his opening 70.

Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, shooting par 72 Friday, and Jack Burke Jr., of Klamath Lake, N. Y., scoring 71, were tied at 143.

Par 144s were shared by Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, who got a second round 74 despite being six strokes over par through 12 holes, and Fred Hawkins of El Paso Tex., who shot 73 Friday.

Hogan's horrid round dropped the all-time Masters' scoring champ into the 147 bracket.

SHOWS WAY IN MASTERS—Amateur Ken Venturi, right, San Francisco, happily plants a kiss on his putter just after topping all others with a low score of 66 in the first round of the Masters Golf Tournament at Augusta, Ga. He is congratulated by partner Billy Patton, Morganton, N. C., who had a first round 70. Venturi forged a four-stroke lead in the second round yesterday as he shot a 69 for a 36-hole total of 135. Techsters Meet Greenie Golfers On Ruston Links

RUSTON, La., April 6 (Special)—With three straight victories to their credit, the Louisiana Tech golfers will be up against some tough competition Saturday afternoon when they seek win number four at the expense of Tulane University. The match will be held at the Ruston Country Club course.

Saturday's action will give the Techmen a chance to gain revenge for defeats at the hands of the powerful Tulane lineups the past two seasons. In 1954 the Tulane outfit was the only one to beat the Bulldogs all season. Last spring Tulane was one of two teams to down the Canines.

Coach Joe Aillet's Techsters now hold a victory over Illinois State Normal University and two wins over Northwestern State.

Frugé Hurls St. Matthew's Over Mer Rouge, 9 To 0

George Frugé came up with two-hit pitching and the Fighting Irish of St. Matthew's High School won their second straight baseball game yesterday when they traveled to Mer Rouge to drop Mer Rouge High for the second time, 9 to 0.

Only hits off Frugé, whose father was once a standout softball pitcher here, were a double by John Dye and a single by Joe Dye, the hits coming in the second and fifth innings. Jackie Norman, with a double and single, and Carl Inzina, with two singles, led St. Matthew's 7-hit attack on three Mer Rouge pitchers.

Coach Jay Broussard's Irish make their third start of the season against Southside High of Monroe on the Pelican diamond at L.T. Tuesday afternoon.

NICE, France, April 6 (AP)—Veteran Gardner Mulloy, Miami, Florida, Friday defeated France's Marcel Bernard, 6-4, 6-2, to gain the semifinals of the Nice International Tennis Tournament.

In women's doubles, Gloria Butler, New York, and Mrs. Barbara Davidson, Milwaukee, eliminated Germaine Callot, France, and Berna Thung, Holland, 6-1, 6-0, to advance to the semifinals.

Tigerettes Push Sale Of Tickets For Games Here

Neville High School's Tigerettes are still in the process of selling season tickets for the Monroe Sports with only moderate success being met, according to late reports.

The all-girl pep squad has been working after school every day this week to make their campaign a success.

If anyone wishes to purchase a book of these season tickets, contact any member of the Tigerettes personally or call Neville High School. This project is a joint effort to help the Sports, and at the same time, aid the funds of the pep squad by granting the N.H.S. organization a percentage on ticket sales.

The season books constitute quite a saving for fans over buying them individually at the gate for each game. Then, too, they are transferable and as many as is desired can be used at a given game. Also, a considerable amount of time and effort are saved by buying the tickets at this time.

At the January meeting of the Twin Cities Baseball Corporation's board of directors it was stated at least 1,000 season books of tickets must be sold in order to assure sound financial stability. It was further announced that the deadline should be March 1. However, at that time only about 500 tickets had been sold.

The Tigerettes are now attempting to at least help the campaign to be somewhat more successful than when it ended on March 1. Prices for the tickets are $17.50 for bleachers and $25, plus tax, for grandstand.

Tulane's 10-Run 2nd Inning Downs Southerners, 15-4

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 6 (AP)—Tulane scored 10 runs in the second inning today in wallowing Mississippi Southern 15-4.

The big blow of the inning was a three-run homer by John Caruso. In all, Tulane collected seven hits in the inning off losing pitcher Bo Dickinson.

Lefty Doug Reagan pitched all the way for Tulane, allowing six hits.

Mississippi Southern scored its four runs in the third inning on four hits and two walks.

Caruso also had two singles. Tulane 0-10-3 000 002-15 14 3 M.Southern 004 000 000-4 6 3 Reagan and Reginald; Dickinson, Youngblom (3) and Akins, Martin (6).

Courtney's Effort In Half Mile Best In Marine Relays

QUANTICO, Va., April 6 (AP)—Through puddles, rain, mist and just plain mud, Tom Courtney of the U.S. Army splashed to victory in the half-mile run in a respectable 1:52.8 today at the Marine Relays—the opener of the big Olympic-year outdoor season.

One of the top U.S. hopes for the Olympic 800-meter title, the ex-Fordham runner ran easily despite the miserable footing and out-legged John Barnes, a member of the 1952 team who now is in the Air Force, by about 10 yards.

Arnie Sowell and Lon Spurrier, Courtney's two half-mile rivals, did not enter, so he had the race all to himself.

Since it was the first meet of the season and some of the teams from the frozen North hadn't had any workouts before the start of this week, the clockings were not particularly notable. In addition, the start was under two inches of water, which didn't help.

Dave Lean of Michigan State, who won the British Empire title in Vancouver, captured the 400-meter hurdles in 8:54.4. He is a native of Tasmania and probably will run for Australia in the Olympics.

Fred Dwyer won his first race in a long, long time when he led the field home in the 2-mile run in 9:12.7. Gordon McKenzie of the New York Pioneer Club, and Joe Tyler of San Diego Navy, tied for second.

Dwyer was bothered by a bad leg all last winter and, considering that he's far behind in his conditioning, his effort was a good one, indeed.

Cotton

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 6 (U.S.)—Cotton futures closed 65 cents a bale higher to 50 cents lower today. Aggressive trade and commission house buying of old new crop months extended gains to $1.30 a bale during the morning.

The demand was influenced by sentiment that a compromise farm bill would be enacted providing high supports in some degree for 1956. A broker, often acting for mill account, bought about 20,000 bales in various new crop positions, with about half of it concentrated in the December delivery. However, the upturn in futures attracted profit taking, which pared a good part of the gains, and trading thereafter was not so aggressive.

New Orleans was a good seller of old crop months, along with some spot house liquidation in nearby May.

On the basis of the compromise talk on the farm bill, some dealers figured a loan near 90 per cent of parity, using the old parity formula, might mean a support price close to 34.00 cents a pound on middling inch cotton. New crop futures, for which the contract base is middling one inch, are selling around 32.50 cents a pound and lower.

Highlights From The Ticker Tape

The stock market closed Friday at a new high with most of the gains being made in the last hour of trading. This gain should wipe out the losses of Thursday.

The Raytheon Mfg. Company has been awarded a $46 million Air Force contract for airborne electronics equipment, it was announced.

Sears Roebuck and Company announced that sales for March and the two months period of 1956 were records for the company.

Motor Products Corp., a supplier of Ford and Chrysler, will discontinue auto parts production at its Detroit plant at the end of 1956 model run. R. J. Nixon, president said the decision was based on the company's inability to get enough auto work at prices providing a reasonable profit.

Texas Independent Oil Producers press for a fat 20 per cent hike, the first increase since June 1953. Continental Oil's president McCollum says a higher price is in the offing. But oil leaders like Texas company's president Long doubt crude can go up while gasoline stocks hold at present super high levels.

Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp. announced a dividend of 24 cents on common payable May 2 to holder of record April 16.

R. C. Persons, President of the Sun Chemical Company stated at the annual meeting Thursday that sales for the first quarter of 1956 showed a substantial increase over sales of $9.8 million reported for the first quarter of 1955. Earnings for the first quarter of 1956 were estimated to be 17 per cent higher than the 19 cents per common share reported for the first quarter of 1955.

Stock Market Hits New Record

NEW YORK, April 6 (U.S.)—The stock market hit another new high today—its third this week.

Extensive price increases were common among higher priced issues. Gains of 4 to 7 points were scored. There were many gains of 1 to 3 points. Losses usually were rather small, but they were numerous.

Oil, aircrafts, and chemicals were foremost in the advance together with a number of individually strong stocks.

Toward the close some of the low priced stocks came to life with a rush of trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.10 at $191.50, a new record high mark. The industrial component of the average gained $2.60 at a new high of $275.20. The rails were up 20 cents at $146.40, and utilities added 30 cents at $74.70.

The list was rather broad with 1,206 individual issues traded of which 540 advanced and 466 declined. There were only 70 new highs while 45 touched new lows for the year.

Volume was not very large at 2,600,000 shares. That compares with 2,950,000 shares traded yesterday when the market declined. Smaller totals when the market goes up and larger totals on the downside are not to the liking of the bulls in Wall Street.

Corporate bonds were lower. U. S. government issues over-the-counter were easy.
